

FLIR Systems Expanding Presence in Washington, D.C. with New Headquarters

March 13, 2019

New Headquarters Situated Near Major Customers, Regulators, and Investors Features Sensing Solutions Showroom

ARLINGTON, Va.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Mar. 13, 2019-- FLIR Systems, Inc. (Nasdaq: FLIR) today announced it would open a new headquarters office in Arlington, Virginia, near Washington, D.C. The facility significantly expands the company's presence in Washington, D.C. and creates a new space to showcase FLIR technology that helps save lives and livelihoods.

"FLIR is a global company serving diverse customers around the world with advanced technologies," said Jim Cannon, President and CEO at FLIR Systems. "Having a greater presence in Washington, D.C. is critical to helping us grow our business, as it creates better proximity for FLIR to support key customers, investors, regulators, and the more than 4,000 FLIR team members around the world."

Located in Pentagon Row at 1201 South Joyce Street in Arlington, the office will house 65 employees and serve as a conference center and gathering space to support the company's largest customer, the United States (U.S.) Government, as well as investors and regulators located on the east coast of the U.S. The 30,000-square-foot facility will serve as home office for FLIR's Government and Defense Business Unit and for members of the senior executive team, including the company's CEO, CFO, and CHRO. The facility will feature a state-of-the-art technology showroom to demonstrate FLIR sensing solutions for customers.

FLIR employees currently located at the company's Crystal City, Virginia facility will move to the new Arlington headquarters. FLIR Systems remains incorporated in the state of Oregon and the company plans to begin a renovation project for its Wilsonville, Oregon headquarters in the second quarter of 2019.
